SAN DIEGO, CA – The WineTime Bar, the anti-aging, nutritional chocolate bar that contains more Resveratrol than 50 glasses of red wine, made its Today Show debut on NBC Wednesday, November 30th during the fourth hour of the show with Kathie Lee and Hoda.

The WineTime Bar is the first nutritional bar to contain Resveratrol, and it packs more of this beneficial antioxidant than can be found in 50 glasses of red wine. The WineTime Bar is dairy and gluten free, high in fiber, vegan, contains no trans fat, hydrogenated oils, high fructose corn syrup, cholesterol, artificial colors, sweeteners, flavors or preservatives. Available in two flavors, Chocolate Dates & Almonds and Chocolate Raspberry, the WineTime Bar is a low-calorie snack with only 190 calories per bar.

Kathie Lee and Hoda agreed that the WineTime Bar is delicious and remarked that it is one of the many ways you can enjoy wine now. You can watch Kathie Lee and Hoda try the WineTime Bar live from the news desk at www.todayshow.com.

Not only from consumers, but also from retailers including a major hotel and even a company that raises winning sports horses with wine-related names. On top of recent appearances on three San Diego TV stations we have been enjoying a surge of extremely positive media attention for our unique WineTime Bars."

The WineTime Bar retails for $2.99 and can be purchased at Vitamin Shoppe stores nationwide, select Whole Foods stores, independent specialty foods, natural foods and grocery stores or online at www.winetimebar.com.
